Editorial foreword

This book is the edited collection of papers presented at the Numismatica Pannonica conference organised on the 10th September 2018 by the Antique Numismatic Workshop of the Hungarian Numismatic Society in Budapest. This was the result of a workshop established together with István Vida in 2016 to gather everyone interested in ancient numismatics in Hungary. The aim of the Antique Numismatic Workshop was to create an open forum, where numismatists, collectors, conservators-restorers and students could exchange their thoughts and ideas about their findings on any subject. During the meetings held every second week, we discuss a topic presented by a member, which is followed by a debate and subsequent friendly drinks. This initiative is not only unique in Hungary because of its regularity, but also in helping build bridges between every part of numismatic life. It is with great joy that this workshop could grow into this conference that we are able to present these papers to you. Unfortunately, only half of the 12 participants contributed to this book, but the hard work of the remaining authors also shows how diverse these and interesting this conference has been.
